

International Journal of Mechanics and Control

Honorary Editor: Guido Belforte

Editor: Andrea Manuello Bertetto

MISSION

The Journal is addressed to scientists and engineers who work in the field of mechanics (mechanics, machines, systems, control, structures). It is edit in Turin (Northern Italy) by Levrotto&Bella Co., an international board of editors. It will have not advertising.

Turin has a great and long tradition in mechanics and automation of mechanics systems. The journal would will to satisfy the needs of young research workers of having their work published on a qualified paper in a short time, and of the public need to read the results of the researcher as fast as possible.

Interested parties will be University Departments, Private or Public Research Centres, Innovative Industries.